

ARE YOU READY?

What if I told you that racial equality depends on you loving yourself unconditionally?

Or that the end of war depends on you discovering your True Identity?

Or that an unpolluted ocean requires you to let go of an old grudge?

Or that the end of homelessness depends on you taking out your earbuds, disconnecting from your device, and smiling at everyone you pass on the street?

What if, by recognizing that we are One—and understanding that we are collectively responsible for all the good and all the ills we see in the world, we each began to take personal responsibility for how that is?

And what if we understood that it all begins and ends with Love?

AUTHOR'S NOTE

More than a decade has passed since the original Evolution Revolution (The First Peaceful Revolution In The World—A Handbook for Personal & Global Transformation) was published, and during the intervening period I have lived dozens of lifetimes—evolving apace.

So I have great hopes that the general population and potential readership has been experiencing their own evolutionary process and are ripe for the information asking to be shared in this new compilation.

For while I have noticed some interestingly enlightened shifts in the global village, the insanity of the Old Paradigm has intensified dramatically and is wreaking havoc with great vigor. The situation is both critical and dire.

To counter this alarming state of affairs, those of open heart and benevolent intention must seriously ramp up the quality of their game: for to be focused on the personal in the current circumstances is both irresponsible and extremely short-sighted at best. We cannot afford to be blasé about the planet and its inhabitants being devastated and demolished as we watch—and activism alone will not cut it.

Why?

Because we live in a Quantum Field—what we perceive as external reality is a direct reflection of our personal and collective consciousness—and in order to have sufficient juju to precipitate the transformation we desire to see in the world, we must each cultivate and firmly establish a more highly evolved Consciousness within.

This profound inner change can only be accomplished by equally profound desire, commitment, and devotion—and the dedication of our lives to the ‘well-being of all.’

For those who may be reluctant to give unconditionally, fearing personal lack, know this: because we are inherently One, by serving the whole we are simultaneously serving our selves.

Please understand: the only true and lasting remedy against the forces of destruction running rampant is a critical mass of enlightened Consciousness permeating our Quantum Reality.

And that depends on you.
