

LOVES MIRACLE

Loves power embraces hope and destiny. Love can only be shared not harbored. When the exchange of love is done correctly, it extends to joy and happiness.

Love can stay for a lifetime when it's respected. Love is not disposable. We call upon it, we pray for it, we claim it, and we dream it. We do this because we love it. Yes, many people love to be loved, hope to be loved, and feel a strong need to be loved.

Love can fulfill all our desires as it evokes our deepest emotions, but we must first respect it.

When love directs our hearts, it can lead to peacefulness. We can dream our best, live our best, expect our best, and be our best.

The miracle of love can make people live better and appreciate all the little things. Why should any human being live their whole life and never experience love at its best? At least once in our lifetime we all should know this kind of love. Love can make the difference if we just give it a chance.
